The theme of this 1971 Conasoga is TIME. TIME is important to every aspect of our lives because it changes faces and situations. With TIME the modern becomes antique and then ancient. Important things become obsolete when TIME dims their significance. Insignificant things become important when TIME proves their value.

Time moves the world

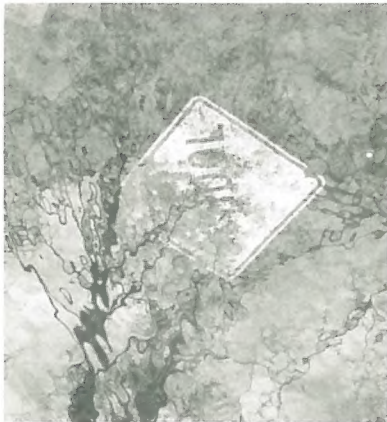

Time controls our lives

There is a time to study

There is a time to play

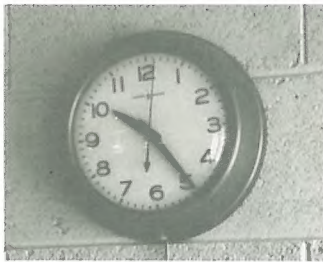

Sometimes school signs get thrown in the creek

There is a time to be serious

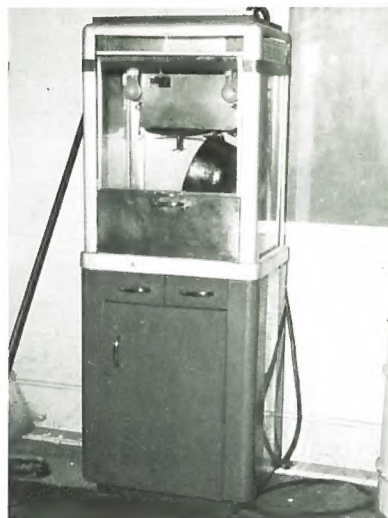

Time is often of utmost importance

Sometimes we wait and time moves slowly

Time changes all things

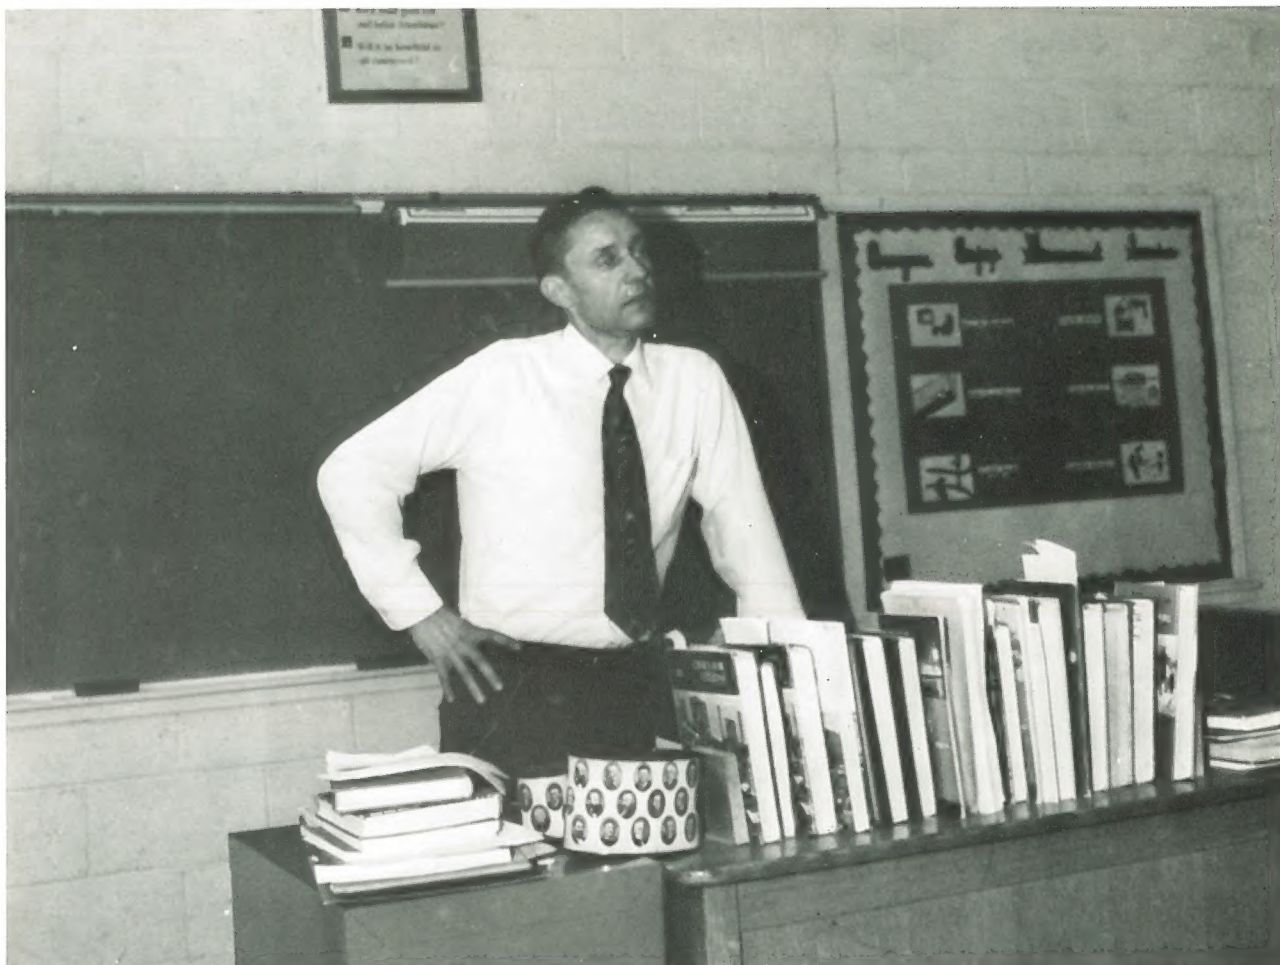

Time always leaves its marks

LEARN TO ROOT YOUR SOUL IN TIMELESS THINGS

Looking back through the years we have spent at North Cove, we see the faces and remember the voices of those who have guided us.

Outstanding among these is the man who sponsored us our Freshman year and in Beta Club; who cheered us to victory athletically while at the same time teasing us about the Spruce Pine J.V.'s and Mohammed Ali; who encouraged us academically; who offered us encouragement and advice, yet realized that we could not follow all of it, but must decide for ourselves our goals, our limitations and our future.

For these reasons, we the final class of North Cove High School, dedicate this, the 1971 edition of the Conasoga, to Mr. Douglas McKinney to show our gratitude for his years of dedication to the students and aims of North Cove High School.

Dedication

In the shadows of the mountains

Under the skies so blue,

Stands our dear old North Cove High School,

Glorious to view.

Sound the chorus, speed it onward;

Thee we'll never fail!

Hail to thee, our North Cove High School

Hail to thee, All Hail!

In thy halls we formed our friendships

Dear old high school home

And to thee we pledge our hearts,

Wherever we may roam

Sound the chorus, speed it onward;

Thee we'll never fail!

Hail to thee, our North Cove High School

Hail to thee, All

Review of the Year

Beginning in the hot latter months of August and winding ever forward toward the final close of the 1970-71 year, North Cove High School has made its imprint on the sands of time. 1970-71 was . . .

pleasures . . .

. . . new teachers

bridge repairs . . .

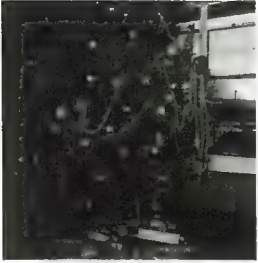

. . . sadness

a game with P.G. . . .

. . . joy at Christmas

a snowball fight . . .

. . . work

and play . . .

but most of all 1970-71 was a step closer to the future and the beckoning mystery that it forever holds.

FOREWARD

As the minutes of this the 1970-71 school term tick away, we pause to look backward and see the times before. We see the times when our school was an infant struggling to her start in life; the period of her growth to acknowledgment by others; and the triumphs academically and athletically. We review her generations of pupils who are her lifeblood and the devotion of those men and women who have guided her and her students forward to ultimate success.

Etched in the sand that has just passed to the bottom of our hourglass we view the year that has become a memory indistinguishable in time. But what time erases this book will preserve. It will hold true the memories, the hopes, the friends, the defeats, the triumphs, and the joys as we the students of North Cove High School saw them - those memories that not even time can dull.

Principal's Message

It is the aim of North Cove School to explore some of the issues that students of our day must face and try to resolve as they go through the process of education. Their responsibility is a heavy one. The past fifty years have seen extraordinary complications: two World Wars, the Great Depression, chronic international tensions, the onset of the Atomic Age, and Viet Nam. Students have been compelled over and over again to make re-adjustments, and teachers have been called on with increasing urgency to distinguish between the permanent and the transitory.

I hope that the years spent here at North Cove will help students know themselves and their world better than before, and that it will make clear to them the wisdom that lies beyond knowledge.

The collection of events found in this, the last volume of the Conasoga, will help in determining the permanent from the transitory.

We dedicate these pages of the Conasoga to the memory of one who was a member of the North Cove Faculty for a number of years. From the time she first joined the faculty, she seemed a part of North Cove - sharing our joys and sorrows and trying with all her might to build character, along with vocabulary, in her students. She was a fun-loving, humorous, and understanding person who rebuked unkind comments with a simple "how ugly."

We will always remember Mrs. Julia Arnold and the friendship and guidance she brought us and will ever cherish the fond memories of the years she spent with us at North Cove.

A Historical Survey of
North Cove
High School

It was an early September day in 1923 when North Cove first opened her doors and began writing the pages of her history. A year before, fire had consumed the two room school house at Pitts and a delegation of consolidation of the Woodlawn, Pitts, Peppers Creek, Ashford, Cox Creek, and Armstrong schools met with the Board of Education. Action was prompt and in 1923 the board appointed three men to select the sight for the new school. The committee was composed of Frank A. Edmunson, Superintendent of Avery County Schools, W. R. Hill, Superintendehnt of Rutherford County Schools, and G. B. Strickland, Superintendent of Old Fort School. They selected a sight in the North Cove area and purchased the land for the building. Later three and a half adjoining acres were purchased as grounds for athletics activities.

The first principal of North Cove was G. Watson Wilson. Thomas Stacy, Jr. was the assistant principal and basketball coach. There were four elementary teachers: Hattie Taylor, Alda English, Bertha Morris, and Beatrice Brown. The Junior High grades were taught by Thomas Stacy, Jr. and G. Watson Wilson was teacher for the High School grades. Teachers held classes in six of the seven available classrooms. The other classroom, situated behind the auditorium, was not occupied during the early years of operation. Total enrollment for all grades was from one hundred twenty-five to one hundred fifty students.

Transportation was provided for the students. This consisted of three buses driven by faculty. The students in the Honeycutt area were transported by a horse-drawn wagon driven by a student, Alvin Wiseman who now resides at Pleasant Gardens.

In 1937 three rooms were added to the original building and a gym was built in 1953. Library and science equipment was first purchased in 1941 and in the same year the school became standarized and accredited.

Athletics has always been important at North Cove. Facilities were scarce, so the team used an old packing house in the Ashford section for practice and games. Electricity was not available and the games were played by the light of gas lanterns. There were also several outdoor courts on the school grounds. One was situated near the creek bank, another was just west of the school house and a third, which was set up later, was located near the present paved road leading to the school.

The earliest boys' basketball teams consisted of Otis Lonon, Finley Lonon, Guy A. Lonon, Guy W. Lonon, Joe A. Carpenter, Russel Graig, Harlan Graig, Perry Green, Ward Green, Craig Bristol, Guy McCall, Horace McCall, Jack Swofford, Lloyd Swofford, Clyde Bates, Harry Swofford, Walter Harrison, Jack Boyd, Glenn Swofford, Hugh McCall, Roy Smoot and Theo Hollifield among others. These first teams produced an all-conference player, Finley Lonon.

There was very little girls' basketball in the early years of the school even though there was an organized team. The earliest girl basketball players included Jessie Washburn, Pearl Washburn, Willie Belle Reeves, Dorthula Denny, Pheebee Daniels, Ellen Holtsclaw, Faye McGee, May Wiseman, Ulna Lonon, and Faye McCall.

Baseball games were mainly just neighborhood get-togethers with the primary object that of having a good time. Track and field events were held in much the same way. Everybody had a good time and the fun was free for all to enjoy. That same spirit has always characterized the students and faculty as well as the players themselves at a North Cove Game.
